American artist/painter, Rochelle Feinstein's first solo exhibition titled 'Make it Behave' will be on view at Kestnergesellschaft in Hannover from December 3, 2016 to February 5, 2017.

The exhibition will feature paintings and series of works by the artist from the past three decades. It will highlight the significant role of language and its normative use in Feinstein's painting. Feinstein's work demonstrates the absurdity of value systems that determine our daily life as well as politics and art history. In 2017, the exhibition will also be featured at the Bronx Museum of the Arts in New York.

The exhibition will be on view at Kestnergesellschaft, Goseriede 11, 30159 Hannover, Germany. For details, visit, www.kestnergesellschaft.de
